Apples! Apples!!

We are more than grateful to our many customers who purchased apples from us during the past week, and we more than ever appreciate the fact that Crossfield people prefer quality goods to doubtful bargains.

We still continue our sale at the same prices :-

- | | | |
|-------|--|----------------|
| No. 1 | (JONATHANS
KINGS
BAILEY SWEET
GREENINGS) | $1.50 per box |
| No. 2 | (ONTARIO RED
WAGNERS
JONATHANS) | $1.25 per box |

These prices are lower than most of the Calgary stores are asking for the same quality of apples, and finer stock is not being shown anywhere. Remember that winter apples will no doubt be higher later, and buying a few boxes now is a good investment. If you have not already seen our No. 1 stock, be sure and do so this week.

CROSSFIELD RED CROSS SOCIETY.

A local branch of the Red Cross Society has been formed in Crossfield. The Red Cross Society aids all sick and wounded in war, irrespective of nationality. Once a man is wounded he becomes a non-combatant and an object of charity and commiseration. A meeting was held in the Fire Hall, on Tuesday, Oct. 27th. Miss Pinkham, Hon. Sec'y. of the Calgary branch was present and gave a very interesting address on the work of the Red Cross Society. The meeting was well attended and already 26 members and 4 associate members have joined the society. At the close of the meeting the executive committee met for the purpose of ordering some material to begin work. It was decided to have two dozen flannel shirts sent up from Calgary, these will come out and ready to be done up by the members. Donations of either money or material will be most acceptable to the society. Material required would be flannellette, white or colored, colored edgewear for bed socks, yarn for knitting, grey or khaki colored; buttons and tape and cheese cloth. Additional information can be obtained by phone from any of the officers or committee.

It would not be advisable for any one to make any garments without first consulting the society, as patterns will be sent from Calgary. Garments which do not conform to the rules of the Red Cross Society are liable to be refused.

The society are anxious to get as many members as possible, and any one can join (men or women) upon payment of $2. Associate members are also acceptable on payment of $1. The society would appreciate any help in the line of sewing or knitting from those who would be able to spare the time to do so. But there is no compulsion in this matter as the membership fee is a great help in itself.

The officers of the Society are:
President: Mrs. E. E. Edwards.
Vice-President: Mrs. E. H. Morrow.
Secy-Treasurer: Mrs. Manning.
Executive Committee: Mrs. Lewis, Mrs. Berry, Mrs. Robinson.

Passing of Darwinism

Scientists from all parts of the British empire assembled in Australia for the annual meeting of the British Association for the Advancement of Science, presided over by Professor William Bateson, who was induced by that great scientist, Sir Oliver Lodge.

Professor Bateson's address on "Hereditary and Evolution" was a direct attack on the Darwinian theory of evolution—not on the great facts of evolution, but on Darwin's explanation of them.

"I suppose," he said, "that every one of us is familiar with the origin of species which Darwin promulgated. Through the last 16 years these themes of the natural selection of favored races has been developed and expounded in writings innumerable. Favored races certainly can replace others. The argument is sound, but we are doubtful of its value; for in that debate stands adjoined."

The president thus offered no theory of any kind to replace the Darwinian explanation, but while destroying it he paid a high tribute to its power.

If they could not see how a fowl gave rise to a chicken or how one sweet pea produced another, they at least could watch the system by which the differences between the various kinds of fowls or between the various kinds of sweet peas were distributed among the offspring.

The allotment of characteristics among offspring was accomplished through a process of cell division in which the elements were sorted out. What those elements were he did not know, but it seemed to him unlikely that they were material particles. He supposed that their properties depended on some method of arrangement.

Plants, fowls, dogs, horses, one's own children, associated the process of segregation of the factors of inheritance. The body of evidence was now large.

In place of what they now knew the scope claimed for natural selection must be greatly reduced. We went to Darwin for his facts, but he no longer spoke with philosophical authority. The doctrine of the survival of the fittest helped scarcely at all to account for the diversity of the species.

There was no proof that the domestic animals had been developed from a few wild types. Fowls presented insuperable difficulties as to descent. Dogs, horses, cattle, sheep, ponies, wheat, rice, corn, alfalfa, cherries had in turn been accepted as derived from one but from several distinct sources.

The problem of the origin of life still stood outside the range of scientific investigation, and when they heard of the spontaneous formation of aldehyde by the action of light as the first step in the origin of life, they thought of Harry Lauder in the character of a schoolboy pulling out his trousers from his pocket and saying, "That a washer—fer makin' motor."

Evidently Darwinism has had its day, and is to be followed by some new scientific theory, nature and revelation being apparently the only stable facts in life.

The popes gave up their claim to issue kolossal in 1867, when Pius IX, minted some few silver coins, like some of his predecessors he left off his collar the representation of the keys symbolical of the claims to a Petrine succession.

To Circumvent Order on All Goods The government has ascertained that an effort is being made by United States agents of German exporters to continue sales of German and Austrian goods in Canada, thus circumventing the order-in-council prohibiting trade with the country's enemies.

A large number of circulars have been sent to Canadian merchants by United States importers of German and Austrian goods, offering to supply these goods in Canada.

Hon. J. D. Held, minister of customs, said that effective action would be taken to prevent any such contravention of the spirit of the order-in-council regarding trade with the enemy.

"Do you know, my dear," said the young husband, "there's something wrong with the cake? It doesn't taste right."

"That is all your imagination," answered the bride triumphantly, "for it says in the cook book that it is delicious."

NEWSBOY HALTED BY THE WAR

"Pittale" Ryan, Walking Around the Afternoon Newsboy in Paris

One of the globe-trotters who was overtook in Europe is "Pittale" Ryan, an American newsboy whose face, it is not his name, is known to thousands of people, including not a few dignitaries. "Pittale" started about two years ago to walk around the world, and in the time doing it, and when he last heard from him he was in Paris selling American newspapers to tourists.

Three weeks ago he wrote to a "newsletter" in New York that he expected to be back in this country in August, but he has not yet appeared on Broadway and his whereabouts are unknown. His friends, however, declare that "Pittale" is well able to take care of himself, as he is resourceful and self-reliant, and makes friends everywhere he goes.

Young Ryan, who has sold papers in most of the large cities of the United States, began his long tour in October, 1912, sailing from San Francisco on a steamer, and on his way to a Remington rifle. From the Hawaiian Islands he went to Australia, the Australian coast, and then took a boat to South Africa, and set out on the long and difficult tramp up the African continent from Johannesburg to Cairo. He did Europe a-foot and reached Paris several weeks ago. He is now in Paris, and is doubtless not greatly troubled by the outbreak of war, but his hosts of friends are anxious for news of "Pittale" Ryan.

Drives Attends Like Magic. The immediate help from Dr. J. D. Kellerg's Minard's Liniment is like magic. Nevertheless it is only a natural remedy used in a natural way. The smoke of a cigar, respired, and the passage of the affected tubes, brushes aside the trouble and opens a way for fresh air, feeling and sound by dealers throughout the land.

A Hope For British Victory Of one thing we may be certain, that while all Christendom will have to share the burden of distress it is upon Germany that the larger part will fall in useful lives extinguished, and in suffering, idle shipping, closed factories.

That this is all due to the insane growth of armaments and naval armaments, yes, necessitated by Germany's practice, no one can deny. This war is not a bolt of lightning, it has long been recognized as unavoidable and it bears the earmarks of deliberate planning. Nothing was lacking but a good excuse. And this excuse has been found, or manufactured, as you please, in the fact that Germany should pay heavy tribute.

War Experiences of a Canadian British newspapers contain a description of the trying experiences of a Canadian lady who showed a noble and patriotic spirit in most trying circumstances. She and two other ladies were traveling in Germany after having succeeded with difficulty in getting past Innsbruck to Munich, they got past Munich to Berlin, and then to the British consul there. "We then started for Switzerland," she writes, "and in Lindau, on the Lake of Constance, we were ordered to go out and detained in the railway station for eight hours. We were with us. There was plenty to eat for those who had the money to pay for the food. On the whole, we were kindly treated, although we were much alarmed when a Bavarian colonel came on the scene. He was excited and informed us that the French and Russians were behaving in his country like wild beasts. After we had been detained for eight hours we were told not to be imprudent; they were simply told to go to a hotel and remain there. What will become of them for the next few days, we do not know. Our journey through Switzerland and France was a most unpleasant experience. We were five days on the journey, and all the time we had to stand in the gangways of the train or sit on the luggage that was piled up in them. I have lost my hat, my bag, my suitcase, and my trunk. I am only sorry now for those we had to leave behind."

While it was supposed at Munich that the French were not so badly off as they were strongly advised by friends to represent that it was a citizen of the United States, who would die rather than deny his flag.

TWO YEARS OF TORTURE FROM STOMACH TROUBLE

Cured by the Use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People

There are two ways usually adopted in trying to cure indigestion or stomach trouble—one the wrong way, by using purgatives, and the other drugs which only act locally, and which in the long run causes more distress by weakening the system.

The other way and the right way in the Dr. Williams' manner of treatment—that is, to nourish and build up that stomach by supplying plenty of new, rich, red blood. Give the stomach, become constipated and build up that stomach by supplying plenty of new, rich, red blood. Give the stomach, become constipated and build up that stomach by supplying plenty of new, rich, red blood. Give the stomach, become constipated and build up that stomach by supplying plenty of new, rich, red blood.

Among the many who have been cured by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, one of the most remarkable cases is that of Sumnerville, N.S., who says: "I was the means of saving my life. Till I reached the age of thirty I never knew what it was to be sick, but after that my stomach failed me and food of any kind caused me distress. I became constipated and was forced to use injections daily. This went on for about two years; I grew weaker and weaker; my weight fell from 185 to 125 pounds; I had a hard cough and appeared to be going into a decline. All this time I was being treated by the best of doctors, but without success. One night after night I could get no sleep the pain and agony was so severe. On consultation with the doctor, he advised an operation as a means of saving my life. This relief was undergone and began to look forward to an early death. Just then a friend advised me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I had no faith in any medicine at that time, but I tried them. I gave in and purchased half a dozen bottles. I felt much stronger and my weight was not so severe. I continued their use for a few days, and then I felt a marked improvement in my condition. Till by the time I had taken a dozen boxes every pain and ache had left me; my strength increased; my weight was back where it was before I was sick. I was completely cured. In the years that have elapsed since I used the Pills, I have never lost an opportunity to recommend them to other sufferers. For I have seen them cure many of their use I would have given a large sum of money."

What Dr. Williams' Pink Pills did for Rev. Mr. Nowlan they have done for thousands of others and will do for many more. They cure all cases of stomach trouble, but rheumatism, partial paralysis, heart palpitation, St. Vitus' dance, and all other troubles that have their origin in a bad condition of the blood and nerves. The Pills are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 50c a box or six boxes for $2.50. Write to Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Care and Abuse of Farm Machinery.

Recent investigations by the Conservation Commission reveal some very interesting facts regarding the effect of care, or neglect, as the case may be, upon the life of machinery on the farm. Between 90 and 95 farms, divided into three districts, were visited in each of the provinces of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta.

In Saskatchewan, out of 94 farms visited by the Commission's representative, 78 leave all of their implements out of doors. On 73 of the farms, there were no implement sheds of any description. On 21 of the farms, sheds large enough to cover a part of the implements were found, in most cases this being only a buggy or democrat, but not on one single farm was the machinery all housed. Not one farmer was found who painted his implements to protect them from the weather.

In Manitoba, only 14 out of 94 keep their machinery under cover during winter, while 41 claim to keep part of it inside. On 34 of the Manitoba farms no provision is made for protecting implements, and only four claim to have done any painting.

In the three districts visited in Alberta, mixed farming is carried on quite extensively, making more barn room available, so that implements are more likely to be protected, but even here, 37 out of the 92 visited leave all machinery out of doors.

In one district in Ontario where 40 farmers were visited every man housed his implements during winter although none of these men do any painting.

In the Ontario district visited where the implements are housed, the average life of the binder was found to be between 16 and 17 years. Many binders were seen which were in good running order after cutting 20 seasons' crops.

In Saskatchewan and Manitoba, where so much of the machinery is left out of doors, the average life of the binder is given as about 7 years, which is less than half that of the binder protected from the weather. Many binders do not last as long as seven years. One farmer near Mooseomin, Sask., who, after 12 years, was retiring from the farm, held an auction sale. His binder after cutting 12 crops sold for $80, or 50 per cent of the original cost, and his other machinery at proportionately high prices. It had all been well housed and the necessary painting and repairing had been done to keep it in good condition. On a neighbouring farm a binder which had cut only three crops, but which had stood out of doors, was being relegated to the scrap heap and a new one was being purchased.

An implement shed costs money, but if its use will double or treble the length of time the machinery will last, it's a good investment. Farmers often say that they can not afford to build a shed. The truth is, they really can not afford to be without one. Apart from the additional power necessary for operation, the depreciation on unhoused machinery on the average sized farm is so great as to amount to much more than the cost and upkeep of an implement shed. The binder works for only a short time during the year, while machinery in a shop works the whole year through and lasts proportionately many times longer. It is simply a matter of care. The life of a machine extends in direct ratio to the care it receives, and abuse and neglect will shorten the life of any machinery after it is sold. This rests entirely with the farmer, and as a common-sense business proposition he should look after his own interests sufficiently to house his implements and thus save the thousands of dollars wasted annually in unnecessary depreciation.

Turkeys, Ducks, Geese, Fowl and Chicken Wanted, Alive or Dressed.

New the weather is cool, it is quite safe to ship your poultry dressed. In fact we prefer to receive living Chickens and Turkeys dressed.—Ducks, Geese and Fowl alive. About Turkeys:—Most people think that Christmas time is the best time to market Turkeys and as a result, now that the production of poultry in Alberta is large, there is a Christmas glut and prices drop. Avoid this by marketing your Turkeys early, as soon as they are in marketable condition. We are paying high prices now. We also buy Eggs, Pigeons and Rabbits, wild or tame.

If you have dressed pork to market, ship to us. We will get you Calgary prices, charging the small commission of 3 per cent. Write for Prices.

There is a number of useless dogs running about town. They are no good to their owners, and no good to the community at large. They bark and yelp and scare children, frighten horses, and make themselves a nuisance in general.
